The Dt's are: Dave Crider (guitar), Diana Young-Blanchard (vocals), and Phil Carter (drums).

Like the tag line from one of hollywoods "cast of 1,000's" epics: "A BAND OVER 10 YEARS IN THE MAKING", The Dt's was conceived in mind years ago, but in the flesh, November of 2001 approximately, when guitarist Dave Crider and vocalist Diana Young-Blanchard finally got themselves in the same town at the same time after long musings about how they were going to get a band started "one of these days." The two veteran musicians "clicked," as they were sure they would, and were soon joined by ex-Watts alum Phil "fill in" Carter on skins...

Viola! The Dt's are born; fueled by equal parts inspiration and perspiration and combining a shared taste for dirty R&B, raw soul, and loud hard rock, Dave, Diana, and Phil are giving it all they got, layin' it down and smackin' y'all upside the head with their own brand of down home high voltage "hard soul", Dt's style all the way! What? No bass you say? These three individuals deliver such a power-punch, only conformists "know for sure"...Dig?

No greenhorns; each member of this rock-n-soul threesome brings his and her own brand of musical know-how into this unique ultra-blend of "finger blisterin' good" funk n' blues hard soul getdown. Crider (Mono Men, Watts, Wizards of Oz), Young-Blanchard (Madame X, Baba Rhum, Lucky Stiffs), and Carter (Watts, Uncle Salty, The Dissonics) have so much under their collective belt, it's oozing out onto the dancefloor!

for a goodtime call...the Dt's!!!
